Lenders and Investors

how do we tap them?

Funding Methods

Lenders' expectations vs Investors' expectations

Funding Methods

Lenders' expectations vs Investors' expectations

Funding Methods

Lenders' expectations vs Investors' expectations

	Lenders	Investors
The Pitch	Want to see proof that the company has the means to repay the loan. Should include a detailed and realistic cash flow forecast , as well as accountant-reviewed financial statements or a tax assessment for the previous year.	Needs to be exciting with a focus on growth potential, hungry founders and an inspiring story .
Financial Projections	Projections should be broken down by month and go out one or two years . Should adjust for seasonality and scenarios.	Often stretch out to five years and are broken down by year.

Funding Methods

Lenders' expectations

- track record
- ability to repay
- staying in power
- collateral

Funding Methods

Investors' expectations

- competitive advantage
- huge market
- strong management team
- huge returns
- exit strategy

Pitch

- Pitching for new business is a make-or-break moment
- not just what you are pitching, but who you are pitching to

Tips

1. Be a master of the facts, but know that for an executive audience, your relevant experience matters most.
2. Avoid pitches where only one person speaks.
3. Be passionate about the problem, not just your product
4. Listen closely and respond carefully.

Mission, Vision & Values Statements

“We believe in the simple, not the complex.

We believe that we need to own and control the primary technologies behind the products we make.

We participate only in markets where we can make a significant contribution.

We believe in saying no to thousands of projects so that we can really focus on the few that are truly important and meaningful to us.

We believe in deep collaboration and cross-pollination of our groups, which allow us to innovate in a way that others cannot.

We don't settle for anything less than excellence in every group in the company, and we have the self-honesty to admit when we're wrong and the courage to change..”
